MALFROY

MAISON FONDÉE EN 1939

For more than three generations, Maison Malfroy has been creating and manufacturing silk creations, recognised for the uniqueness of its designs and the exceptional quality of its products.

CRAFTSMANSHIP AND CREATION

We offer collections of scarves and accessories made in France and Europe. From the creative process to the traditional French hand-rolled finishes, we above all create quality products, as part of a responsible manufacturing approach.

Malfroy scarves tell a colourful story, full of joy and good humour. Our patterns are designed by our stylists.

This season, we have chosen to explore the theme of wildlife through the representation of different animals, while continuing our tribute to inspiring women with the figure of Sarah Bernhardt. We are also welcoming a guest artist, Malin Gyllensvaan, who presents hand-painted artworks inspired by the Arts and Crafts movement and botanical illustrations.

Our heritage is highlighted through the Heritage theme, which brings Malfroy archive designs up to date.

We have renewed our Polka Dot theme and continue our licensed collaboration with The Little Prince.

FAUNA COLLECTION

With this collection, we wanted to celebrate the ancient and essential bond that connects humans and animals. Since prehistoric times, animals have inhabited our imagination and have become symbols, almost like totems, carrying strength, grace and protection.

The Fauna theme continues this tradition by reinterpreting figures that particularly touch people's hearts. The majesty of the peacock, the power of the horse, the elegance of the cat, the loyalty of the dog and the wild instinct of felines come to life on silk, each revealing a part of our own nature.

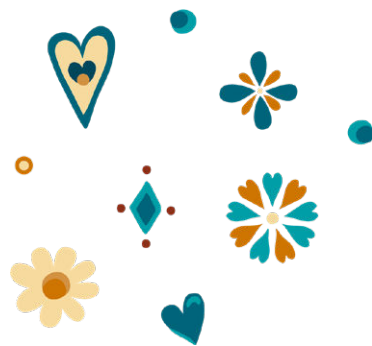

Each scarf then becomes a living treasure, a way of wearing an intimate symbol - almost like a familiar presence - held within the fabric.

WESTERN COLLECTION

Over time, the Western has become far more than a mere fantasy; it has become a true symbol of freedom, adventure and independence.

The cowboy embodies its most iconic figure. A cattle herder, a skilled horseman and often a solitary traveller, he represents a spirit that is courageous, resilient and deeply free. Around him has developed an instantly recognisable aesthetic, shaped by crafted boots, weathered saddles, tooled belts, turquoise jewellery and the emblematic bandanas of the American West.

At Malfroy, we have imagined this collection for free spirits — bold, courageous and untamed. For behind the legendary figures of the cowboy also stand pioneering women, ranchers and horse riders who helped shape this evolving West.

Often less celebrated than their male counterparts, they nevertheless shared the same thirst for adventure and the same determination. Through this collection, we wanted to celebrate these strong personalities — those who dare to follow their own path — and reinterpret a Western spirit that feels more contemporary than ever.

INSPIRING WOMEN COLLECTION

Maison Malfroy is now a story being written by women. For several years, the team and management of our family business have become increasingly female-led. Together, we wanted to create a collection in which the scarf becomes an emblem: an emblem of an inspired and inspiring femininity.

Women did not wait for our time to be creative, powerful, knowledgeable or courageous. Sarah Bernhardt and the “Belle Époque”, the era that witnessed the rise of her fame, are celebrated this season. The first actress to achieve worldwide recognition, her journey reflects the scale of her boldness. Portraying figures such as L’Aiglon and Cleopatra, the woman known as “The Divine” captivated audiences as much through her talent as through her extravagance.

MALIN GYLLENSVAAN COLLECTION

Malin Gyllensvaan is a textile designer and illustrator based in Stockholm, Sweden, known for her intricate patterns featuring flowers, animals and plants.

She has a passion for gouache and graphite pencil, which she often combines in her creations. Her sense of colour and texture gives rise to lush, ethereal and exotic artworks, through which she hopes to transport the viewer, inviting them to discover a world of natural beauty and wonder, and to experience a feeling of calm and serenity.

She draws inspiration from a variety of sources, including antique botanical illustrations and patterns from the Arts and Crafts movement. Her work is characterised by a deep admiration for the natural world and a keen eye for detail.

Over the years, her creations have adorned a wide range of mediums: art prints, stationery, puzzles, packaging, home and fashion textiles, as well as illustrations for books.

HERITAGE COLLECTION

For several seasons, Maison Malfroy has chosen to highlight its heritage and history by bringing its archives and historic designs back to life. Our design studio has carried out a careful selection and reinterpretation of these patterns, giving them a contemporary touch. Through digitisation, the creation of new colourways and the subtle addition of graphic elements, these designs are given a new lease of life.

This season, two designs have particularly caught our attention: a square scarf featuring a leopard motif and two square scarves with floral patterns.

LE PETIT PRINCE COLLECTION

To celebrate the 80th anniversary of *The Little Prince*, the silk house Maison Malfroy has created a collection inspired by this iconic character, loved and cherished by both children and adults alike.

Our creations, with their poetic spirit, evoke childhood and daydreaming. A way to keep close the values of friendship conveyed in Saint-Exupéry's timeless story.

MUSEUM COLLECTION

We are proud to present our “Great Painters” collection. A selection of scarves carrying the power and emotion of works by universally acclaimed artists. We have chosen not to reinterpret or alter the selected artworks; instead, we simply enhance them with the addition of colour, framing them with a border or a subtle French hand-rolled or machine-rolled hem.

Offer your customers art to wear on silk!
